N. E. O. P. meets tonight. AT THE AUDITORIUM.

John Barrymore in Side-Splitting Film Adaptation of Renowned Farce, "Are You a Mason?"

If Leo Ditrichstein's great farce triumph Are You a Mason? made thousands of people throughout the country laugh until they couldn't produce another giggle from sheer exhaustion of their facial muscles, the Femous Pleyers Film company's fivenaustion of their facial muscles, the Famous Players Film company's five-part adaptation of this celebrated farce, starring the inimitabel comedian John Barrymore, will exert a similar or greater influence upon millions. In its amplified screen form, this convulsing story distributes more gen-uine humor than did even the original play. Are You a Mason? must already be recorded as one of the greatest laugh-triumphs the screen has ever

This production, released on Paramount programme, is certain to bring the rainbow out of the cloudiest local skies. John Barrymore's impersonation is one of the foremost hupersonation is one of the foremost hu-morous character studies ever con-tributed to the stage or screen, and is worthy of the most unstinted laud-ation. There is never a pause in the comic appeal of the story, and the fun grows and grows until it reaches a crescendo of laughter and exhilara-Rarely has there been in a screen comedy such a continuous abundance of mirth-provoking situa-

Assisted by a superbly chosen cast, including Helen Freeman. Charles Dickson, Ida Waterman and Harold Lockwood, John Barrymore succeeds in making the pictorial version of this noted farce one of the greatest democratic the property of the onstrations of humorous character de-lination ever created.

The subject will remain at the Auditorium Monday and Tuesday, during which time it is certain to be the greatest gloom dispeller in the town. Other photoplays today will be a great L-K-O comedy, entitled The Child Needed a Father, and the Cameron Sisters, famous dancers will be teen on the screen in several of their latest dance creations.

DAVIS THEATRE.

The Rosary, 7 Part Feature and Keith Vaudeville Today.

For the first half of this week the management of the Davis has secured the most impressive feature ever shown in Norwich. The Rosary, a seven reel Selig Red Seal production featuring Kathryn Williams.

A more artistic and dramatic phosphory and the bodyle between the content of th toplay could hardly be imagined than this production by the Selig Polyscope company. It is based upon the famous drama by Edward E. Rose and tells the story of the many trying events which fill the life of Father Kelly. From childhood he was told that his calling was the church and his heart directed him that way, but in early mannood when a young girl came into his life he wavered for a short time from his determination. He won the battle which raged in his heart, how-ever, and devoted himself to the ever, and devoted himself to the church. Later in life a boy—the son of the woman he loved—came to him and Father Kelly cared for the boy as though he were his own. The boy grew to manhood and married. His wife sister was ruined by a worthless fellow and in protecting the girl's name the wife aroused the husband's suspicion. A sparation followed and suspicion. A sparation followed and Father Kelly, heartbroken over the tragedy, did all he could to bring them In the end he was successful and happiness came into their lives again.

This is the first of the Big 4 productions which will be a feature of the shows here every week and no one should miss seeing it. A special mu-sical programme adapted to the pic-ture will be rendered by the Davis concert orchestra.

The vaudeville attraction for this bill is Archie Nichelson & Co., presenting a big time comedy musical of-fering Other Mutual movies and fering Other Mutual movies and comedies will complete this banner bill. Time and prices as usual. The finest programme of feature pictures and vaudeville ever presented in this city for the money.

"THE LAW OF THE LAND." At The Davis Friday Evening, September 17.

Coming direct from its season's run at the 48th Street theatre, New York city, is The Law of the Land, with Miss Adelaide French in the stellar role. It will be seen at the Davis theatre one night, Friday evening, September 17th.

Mr. Broadhurst's new play is prom ised is a drama action with comedy scenes which give ample excuse for the statement that the play is one of tears that end in a laugh and laughs that end in tears. Miss Adelaide French, who is well known here, is being starred in the play. She has a position of great prominence in the theatre. But no play since her Madame X, it is said, has brought her more distinction among the great players of emotional roles than The Law of the Land. Associated with Miss French are Mr. Coates Gywnne, Joseph Merrick, Frank Stirling, and othseph Merrick, Frank Stirling, and other well known players.

Mr. Coates Gywnne, who is said to be one of the most promising of the rounser players of our American stages has been leading man with May Robson for the past three seasons. Without going into detail of the story of The Law of the Land, for the theatregoer will best enjoy the play without knowing the denouement, it may be said that it is vital and human in fact, it is promised that Mr.

Why Not Get Rid of Eczema?

If your skin itches and burns with eczema or any such tormenting, unsighty skin disease, simply wash the sore places with Resinol Soap and hot water, dry, and apply a little Resinol Ointment. The litching stops INSTANTLY, you no longer have to dig and scratch, sleep becomes possible, and healing begins at once. That is because the soothing, antiseptic Resinol medication strikes right into the surface, arrests the action of the disease, and almost always restores the tortured, inflamed skin to perfect health—quickly, easily and at little cost.

Prescribed by doctors for over 20 years, and sold by every druggist. For sample free, write to Dept. 1-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. sighty skin disease, simply wash the

COLONIAL THEATRE.

"The Counter Intrigue,, Three Reels. Nell Craig and Big Essanay Cast.

A picture of great local interest is to be featured at the Colonial theatre today. It is entitled The Counter In-trigue, and is produced by the great Essanay cast, headed by Nell Craig, the beautiful film star who is helping to make Pendleton Hill, Voluntown, fa-mous. This is the cast that is pro-ducing so many big features in and mous. This is the cast that is producing so many big features in and around Westerly, Voluntown, and so recently made a film, enacting the story in its entirety at a small county story in its entirety at a small county fair in this vicinity. Miss Craig will be remembered in many of her well-known successes of the Colonial theatre, where her gentle art is so pronounced as to be the hit of the programme. Seved by Her Horse, is the Selig Feature, that shows the marvelous sagacity of a horse. It is distinctly a Western picture, and one that teems with the lis of the genuine sort. His Fatal Shot, is the Biograph drama for today telling of two rivals for a girl's love. These two men meet unexpectedly in a strange country. One of them has left a note at the shack where he has been staying, saying that he is going to commit suicide. The other has started on a hunting expeother has started on a hunting expe-dition. The sound of a pistol shot brings the hunter to the scene and he brings the hunter to the scene and he is found bending over the prostrate form with gun in his hand. He is charged with murder, and the balance of the picture shows how he is freed of the charge. Billy Reeves and Mae Hotely are seen in a character comedy entitled Billy's Heiress. This is the famous Billy Reeves of the big Lubin cast, over whom everyone is Lubin cast, over whom everyone is raving. He is an eccentric comedyman, with one big purpose—to mae you laugh—and he generally succeeds. Don'h miss today's programme.

Trouble on Hands. Suffered Awfully. Could Not Put Hands in Water. Used Cuticura. In a Month Would Never Know Hands Were Sore.

71 Bessom St.; Lynn, Mass,—"My trouble broke out with little pimples on my bands. They would fill with a watery substance and would break.
After a while the whole backs and palms of my hands were inflamed. I suffered awfully with the itching and burning. I would scratch until my hands were red, the itching and burning were so intense. Would keep awake half the night. I could not put my hands in water for just as soon as it touched them I would almost go crazy. For one year and a half I could not do my work. "I tried everything anybody told me about. My hands were sore two years before I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The first time I used them I felt relieved and the itching began to stop. In a month you would never know that my hands were ever sore." (Signed) Mrs. Susie M. Edson, Oct. 1, 1914.

POETRY

Her lip is parched and shrivelled,
And her brow is trouble's seat.
Her hair is thin and wasted.
Though the scanty locks are neat;
Her neck is skin and gristle.
And her hands are skin and bone.
And her body. God's own making.
Crooked and deformed has grown

And she coughs as if a death watch
Sat ticking in her breast,
Ever clinging closely to her,
Even when she fain would rest;
And her trembling fingers hurry,
For her work is far from done,
And she thinks with mouraful pleasu
"Well, I may be buried soon."

And so she sits, the poor girl,
In endless misery:
With aching heart and drooping head,
In iron slavery:
Her prospects are a death-bed,
Or worse, a life of pain,
And the friends that oheer her busy
hands
Are ever still the same.

For behind her is the workhouse,
And before her are the streets;
On her right hand is the prison,
On her left starvation sits;
And the pestilence and famine
And the river and the rope,
And the cold and wet and darkness
Come to cling about her hope.

Ho, for all those grisly faces,
In the empty fireplace!
Ho, for every tempting demon!
Ho, for miseries that abase!
With the chilly wind that entere,
Round about her soul they creep,
And when fast the snow was falling
Through the broken roof they peep,

MAGNANIMOUS,

True worth is in being, not seeming,
In doing each day that goes by
Some little good, not in dreaming
Of great things to do by and by.
For whatever men say in blindness,
Or in spite of their fancies of youth,
There is nothing so kingly as kindness, And nothing so royal as truth,

We get back our mete as we measure:
We cannot do wrong and feel right.
Nor can we give pain and feel right.
The air for the wing of the sparrow.
The bush for the robin and wren,
But always the path that is narrow.
and straight
For the children of men.
—Gilbert W. Mead
